“Gathering Vassals Around the Throne:
The Political Economy of Postal Communications in 19th Century Brazil”

PÉROLA GOLDFEDER

Bio: Pérola Goldfeder holds a doctorate in Economic History from the São Paulo University – USP, Brazil. In Fall 2021, she received the Brazilian National Archives Award for the book “Gathering Vassals Around the Throne: The Political Economy of Postal Communications in 19th Century Brazil”. Her current research concerns the late 19th century Brazilian global postal relations in the scope of the Universal Postal Union. She is also lecturer at Ouro Preto Federal University and Minas Gerais State University.